Program Summary: Today’s speakers were from Alert O.C.Program which is one part of the alert and warning system here in Orange County. In the past it was called Emergency Alert System. The new system has been used for evacuations for wildfires. Basically it is a website that is designed to collect your cell phone email address and home phone numbers so you can be alerted in an emergency. They are asking people to log onto the website and give them your information so in case of an emergency you can be contacted easier. We are all encouraged to sign up.

In the moment...

It was a cold evening but everyone had a great time handing out toys to the children at Tamale Festival

Glenn has more fun than anyone else, I wonder what he is asking Santa for?
