Ed O'Hara introduced our speaker: Father Jack Sewell, Chaplain Air Force Reserve 30 years. Father Sewell was a pilot in the Air Force. He explained how he applied to become a chaplain. Father was the director of the reserve chaplains and they numbered approximately 550 in Air Force, the number is now 400. His title is Chaplain First Brigadier General Jack Sewell.

His ultimate role was to be a chaplain to everybody's spiritual needs.

He and his fellow chaplains are very much involved in the recovery of PTS.

Paul Amero sold tickets, Bruce Brown provided a check for $40.00, Kevin Padilla won!
Jordyn Gallegos drew the winning ticket!

Chrissy See is the speaker for next week.

Frank Adamo is the speaker for the following week. The topic is Peace through Quality Communications. Mission: To educate our younger generations on the concepts of interpersonal communication skills, relationship building, and other similar skills leading to peaceful solutions. To train and provide the tools for individuals and groups, such as retired teachers and seniors, to educate the younger generations. Visit <http://www.qualitycommunications.org/>
